

Faculty Development Training in Taipei, Taiwan

Koo Foundation, Sun Yat-Sen Cancer Center

Sponsored by the Andrew T. Huang Medical Education Promotion Fund

April 7-10, 2004

Faculty: Georgette Stratos, PhD; (Stanford University); Kelley M. Skeff, MD, PhD (Stanford University); Mary Lee, MD (Tufts University)

4 day 'Teaching Workshop' based on the SFDC's 'Clinical Teaching' course.

Participants: 30 medical faculty, with representatives from each of the medical schools in Taiwan. 17 participants were Deans

May 21-22, 2005

Faculty: Georgette Stratos, PhD (Stanford University); Kelley M. Skeff, MD, PhD (Stanford University)

2-day training :

Day 1 simultaneous sessions:

(1) 'Teaching workshop' (based on CT course) for 17 faculty from 11 Taiwanese medical schools

(2) Booster session on teaching for 12 returning faculty who attended 2004 workshop. After a refresher on the educational framework for analyzing teaching, and a review of participants' personal teaching goals set the previous year, participants presented cases from their own teaching experience (of both effective and ineffective teaching) and analyzed them using the educational framework.

Day 2: Establishing faculty development programs